-On 23 Nov. 2021, the Morgan County Public Transit office moved to their new building. Phone and Internet services were moved that afternoon when a Spectrum technician arrived. Initially, there was some problems with the phone installation. The 66-block that the phone lines punch down to is worn and the new cross connect wires will not stay connected. After troubleshooting with Spectrum, the phones issues were resolved. The Internet portion of the move was accomplished without incident. The wall mount equipment rack was moved from the old Transit building to the new building and mounted in one of the offices.

Spectrum processed the Public Transit move incorrectly in their internal systems. The move was set up as a new installation instead of a relocation. On the morning of 29 Nov. 2021, the phones and Internet at Public Transit was disconnected by Spectrum. This was done because they thought the equipment installed at the new building was at the old building. Service was eventually restored, but Spectrum will need to send a technician to Transit again to resolve their internal issues.
